

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

ACT I.—A PUBLIC SQUARE IN SEVILLA. ACT II.—LILLAS PASTIA'S TAVERN.
 ACT III.—A WILD MOUNTAIN-PASS. ACT IV.—PUBLIC SQUARE IN SEVILLA AT THE ENTRANCE OF THE CIRCUS.

The Story of Carmen.

The scene of the opera is Sevilla and environs; the time, 1820. Act I opens in a square of Sevilla. Morales, officer of dragoons, is lounging, with the soldiers of the guard, in front of the guard-house, watching the people come and go. Among them he notices a maiden, Micaela, whose shy glances betray an interest in the soldiers. Questioning her, he finds that she wishes to see Don José, a corporal in the regiment; she then evades too pressing attentions, and leaves the square. The relief-guard, with Don José and his captain, Zuniga, appears, and the other guard marches off. Now, at the stroke of noon, the cigarette-girls pour out from the adjacent tobacco-factory; last of all comes Carmen, the beautiful, bold, heartless Gypsy-girl. Scoffing at the gallants who crowd around to seek her favor, her eye chances to light on Don José, still quite oblivious of her presence. He takes her fancy; after momentary hesitation she approaches him, throws him a nosegay, and, with a passionate glance, turns and flees. Don José, amazed and, against his will, flattered by such a token of partiality, is presently surprised by his village sweetheart, Micaela, who brings a message from his mother, exhorting him to be true to his first love. Micaela discreetly withdraws while Don José reads the letter; filled with tender thoughts of earlier days, he would renounce the fitful passion inspired by Carmen;—but a sudden disturbance breaks in upon this softer mood; Carmen has wounded one of her companions in a quarrel, and Don José himself is commissioned by Zuniga to arrest her and take her to jail. But her passionate wiles overbear his good resolutions; he lets her escape, and is punished by imprisonment.

Act II plays in a suburban resort of smugglers, of whom Carmen is a faithful ally. Here she had promised to meet Don José; just now she is passing the time agreeably in the company of Zuniga and other officers. Escamillo, a redoubtable toreador, joins them, and falls in love with Carmen, who repulses his advances. Two Gypsies, leaders of the smugglers, enter to inform Carmen and her two companions Frasquita and Mercedes, that their aid is needed, the same evening, to pass some "merchandise". Carmen, awaiting Don José, who has just been set at liberty, refuses to go. He comes; the rest retire, leaving him alone with Carmen, who, enchanted at recovering her lover, employs all her art to entertain and fascinate him. But, of a sudden, he hears distant bugles sounding the "retreat", realizes that he will be treated as a deserter if absent without leave, and, despite Carmen's astonishment and growing disdain and fury, is in the act of departing, when the door is forced by Zuniga. He peremptorily orders Don José to be gone, who as haughtily refuses to yield to his rival; swords are drawn, but Carmen summons the Gypsies from their hiding-places. Zuniga is disarmed, and Don José is forced, as an open mutineer against his superior officer, to leave Sevilla and join the smugglers.

In Act III the band is assembled within a wild mountain-gorge, waiting to carry their bales into the city. Don José is also there; but he takes no interest in their enterprise, and bitter regrets continually assail him. Carmen, already tired of her half-hearted lover, tauntingly advises him to go back to his mother; she persists in tormenting him, although the cards, in which she implicitly believes, foretell that she is doomed to the speedy death which his gloomy looks presage. The band departs, leaving Don José to mount guard over goods left behind for another trip. Micaela, unseen by him, approaches; she catches sight of Don José, but at the same instant he levels his carbine and fires in her direction. Overcome by fright, she swoons and sinks down behind the rocks. The shot, however, was aimed at Escamillo, who clammers unharmed over the rocks, and introduces himself to Don José, whose pleasure at their meeting is quickly turned to bitterest hatred when Escamillo nonchalantly announces his errand—to meet his sweetheart, Carmen. A terrible duel ensues, fought with the deadly navajas (large, keen-bladed clasp-knives). Escamillo's life is saved by the unexpected intervention of Carmen, whose love is now wholly transferred to him; and leaves the scene defiantly. The smugglers are about to follow, when they espy Micaela, who, awakened from her swoon, implores Don José to hasten to his dying mother. Unable to resist this appeal, he goes, but warns Carmen that they will meet again elsewhere.

The scene of Act IV is another square in Sevilla, before the ancient amphitheatre in which the bull-fights are held. Last in the brilliant procession formed by the participants in the combat, comes Escamillo, with him Carmen, radiant with delight in her latest conquest. Her friends warn her to go away, telling her that Don José is lying in wait. She does not heed the warning. The two meet. Don José is in no murderous mood ; for the time, love has wholly gained the mastery. He implores Carmen to be his, even promises to rejoin the band of smugglers for her sake. She repels him with inflexible determination ; laughs him to scorn, and throws at his feet the ring he had given her ; fearlessly confronting his rising fury, she tells him that all is over between them, that Escamillo is everything to her, and that, though she feels that death is near, she will love him to her last breath. Exulting in the outburst of applause from the arena, telling of Escamillo's triumph, she attempts to join him ; but Don José, maddened by jealousy, seizes her and stabs her to the heart at the very moment when Escamillo, flushed by victory, issues from the amphitheatre with the exultant throng.

The plot here sketched in outline, is based on Prosper Mérimée's story, "Carmen". The very skilfully adapted libretto of the opera is the joint production of Henry Meilhac and Ludovic Halévy. The action is animated, well-knit, and flowing, never dragging or becoming tiresome. And it was a most masterly stroke to introduce the character of Micaela, which is not found in Mérimée's tale, into the play as a contrast and foil to that of Carmen, and in motivation of Don José's irresolution:—Micaela, the simple, true-hearted village maid,—Carmen, the passionate, artful, fickle Gypsy-girl. An opportunity for musical characterization was thus presented, which the gifted composer has made one of the most attractive and effective features in a work replete with charming and striking musical effects. Bizet, well acquainted with Spanish folk-life and folk-music through frequent sojourn in the Pyrenees, portrays scenes and personages in the magical light of real "local color"—a phrase (and effect) too often misused by mediocrity. His melody is his own. The leading character, Carmen, occupies the foreground, dramatically and musically, whenever she is on the stage ; yet the lesser rôles are so carefully handled that there is no sense of disproportion. The total effect is that of a grand art-work, cunningly wrought in the least details ; an imperishable monument to one of the greatest among modern French composers.

Curtain rises. (Dance.)

Handwritten musical score for piano, measures 114-117. The score is written on seven systems of grand staves (treble and bass clef). The key signature is one sharp (F#). The tempo/mood is marked pp (pianissimo) at the beginning and f (forte) later. The score includes various musical notations such as chords, arpeggios, and melodic lines. There are handwritten annotations in the margins, including "25" and "31" in boxes, and "114" written above the final system. The notation is dense, with many beamed notes and complex chord structures.

Allegro moderato. (♩ = 108.)

Piano.

The musical score is written for piano and consists of six systems of music. The key signature is two sharps (F# and C#), and the time signature is common time (C). The tempo is marked 'Allegro moderato' with a quarter note equal to 108 beats per minute. The score includes various dynamic markings and performance instructions:

- System 1: Starts with a forte (f) dynamic. The piano part features a steady eighth-note accompaniment.
- System 2: The right hand has an espr. (espressivo) marking. The left hand has a p (piano) marking. A cresc. (crescendo) marking is present in the right hand.
- System 3: Features triplets in both hands. A dim. (diminuendo) marking is in the left hand.
- System 4: Continues the triplet pattern. The right hand has a dim. marking.
- System 5: The right hand has a dim. marking. The left hand has a smorz. (smorzando) marking. The dynamics are pp (pianissimo).
- System 6: The right hand has a -ppp (pianississimo) marking. The piece concludes with a final chord.

This musical score is for a vocal ensemble of five voices and a piano accompaniment. The vocal parts are arranged in five staves, each with a treble clef and a key signature of three flats (B-flat, E-flat, A-flat). The lyrics for the vocal parts are: "a - - - vec soil" and "on your sidel". The piano accompaniment is written for a grand piano, with a treble and bass clef. The first system of the piano part includes a forte (f) dynamic marking. The second system of the piano part includes a sec. (second ending) marking. The score is written in a single system, with the vocal parts and piano accompaniment. The piano part features a variety of musical notations, including eighth notes, sixteenth notes, and chords, with some passages marked with slurs and accents.

End of Act II.

Entr'acte.

Andantino, quasi Allegretto. ($\text{♩} = 88.$)

Piano.

The musical score is written for piano and consists of six systems of music. The first system is marked 'Piano.' and 'pp'. The tempo is 'Andantino, quasi Allegretto' with a quarter note equal to 88 beats per minute. The key signature has two flats (B-flat and E-flat). The score features a variety of musical textures, including arpeggiated figures, flowing sixteenth-note passages, and dense chordal textures. The score is numbered 12117 in the bottom left corner.

This page contains six systems of musical notation for a piano piece. The notation is written for both the right and left hands on grand staves. The key signature is three flats (B-flat, E-flat, A-flat). The piece includes various musical elements such as slurs, ties, and dynamic markings.

The first system includes the instruction cresc. (crescendo). The second system continues the musical development. The third system includes the instruction dim molto. (diminuendo molto). The fourth system continues the piece. The fifth system includes the instruction pp (pianissimo) and smorz. (smorzando). The sixth system includes the instruction ppp (pianississimo) and Attacca. (Attaca).

The notation includes various musical symbols such as notes, rests, slurs, ties, and dynamic markings. The piece concludes with a final chord and a double bar line.

Entry of the Gypsies.

The musical score is written for piano and consists of six systems of two staves each. The key signature has two flats (B-flat and E-flat), and the time signature is 2/4. The melody is primarily in the right hand, featuring eighth and sixteenth notes, often beamed together. The left hand provides harmonic support with chords and rhythmic patterns. The score includes dynamic markings: cresc. (crescendo) and dim. (diminuendo). The piece concludes with a final chord in the right hand and a sustained note in the left hand.

Andante

(Exeunt omnes.)

The musical score consists of seven systems of staves, each with a treble and bass clef. The notation includes various musical symbols such as notes, rests, and dynamic markings. The dynamics range from ppp (pianississimo) to f (forte). Performance instructions include meno (less), dim. (diminuendo), and smor (smorzando). The score is written in a key signature of one flat (B-flat) and a 3/4 time signature. The notation is complex, with many beamed notes and rests, suggesting a fast or intricate piece. The final system ends with a double bar line and a repeat sign.

This page of musical notation consists of six systems of staves. The notation is primarily for piano, with various musical elements including notes, rests, dynamics, and ornaments.

- System 1: Features a treble staff with a melodic line and a bass staff with a harmonic accompaniment. A handwritten word "words" is written above the first measure. The key signature has one sharp (F#).
- System 2: Continues the melodic and harmonic development. Dynamics include ff (fortissimo) and p (piano). There are asterisks (*) under the bass staff in measures 3 and 5.
- System 3: Shows further melodic and harmonic progression. Dynamics include ff. There are asterisks (*) under the bass staff in measures 3 and 5.
- System 4: Features a treble staff with a melodic line and a bass staff with a harmonic accompaniment. Dynamics include p (piano). There are asterisks (*) under the bass staff in measures 1 and 3.
- System 5: Continues the melodic and harmonic development. Dynamics include pp (pianissimo). There are asterisks (*) under the bass staff in measures 1 and 3.
- System 6: Features a treble staff with a melodic line and a bass staff with a harmonic accompaniment. Dynamics include sf (sforzando) and p (piano). There are asterisks (*) under the bass staff in measures 1 and 3.

The musical score consists of six systems of two staves each. The notation includes various musical symbols such as notes, rests, and dynamic markings. The first system features a piano introduction with a 'cresc. molto.' marking. The second system includes a 'ff' marking. The third system has a 'cresc.' marking. The fourth system includes a 'ff' marking. The fifth system has a 'cresc.' marking. The sixth system includes a 'ff' marking and a 'dim. molto' marking. The notation is in a single key signature and time signature, with various musical notations including notes, rests, and dynamic markings.

The musical score consists of six systems of staves. The first system shows a melodic line in the right hand and a bass line in the left hand. The second system features a rapid sixteenth-note passage in the right hand, marked agosto. The third system continues with similar rapid passages, marked p and sempre dim., with a rall. instruction at the end. The fourth system includes a molto marking and a pp dynamic, with a a tempo. instruction above the staff. The fifth system features a ppp dynamic and a smorz. (diminuendo) instruction. The sixth system concludes the piece with a final chord and a attacca. instruction.

*) Les théâtres qui voudraient intercaler un ballet au 4^e Acte feront chanter ce Chœur avec le texte en italique en supprimant la partie de Zuniga. Si l'on exécute ce morceau sans la danse, il ne faut pas faire la reprise indiquée à la page 345. Pour les autres numéros du Ballet s'adresser aux Editeurs.

*) In case it is desired to introduce a ballet in Act IV, the Chorus is then to sing the text given in italics, omitting the part of Zuniga. If this number is executed without ballet, the reprise indicated on p. 345 becomes superfluous. For the other numbers of the ballet, address the Publishers.
